Rules and entry guide

How to enter a flow

Use English labels. Basecamp gives grade level and curriculum; Grade 11 automatically uses the NEW route. In Mountains choose one letter per question. Rate all 15 Forest statements. Complete Valley in this order: Electives, Core subjects, GWA, Certificates.

Total and ranking

Score(course) = interest + skill + certificate + academic, with no cap. Ranking uses total, then skill, then interest, then a hash. Every target here leads all other courses by at least 3 total points, so the target never needs a tie-break. Students never see these scores.

Interests and skills

Choose exactly one of A-D for each of 8 interest questions. Each matching link gives +3; every course has two links in different questions. Rate all 15 skills from 1 to 5. A course receives the rating itself for each of its two linked skills.

Certificates

Select 0 to 3 of 13 categories; +3 per linked category. None yet represents an empty selection. Every course has two certificate links, so these fixtures use zero, one or two matching categories.

GWA without rounding

Valid input is 60-100, up to two decimals. Bonuses: 95-100: +6; 90 to under 95: +5; 85 to under 90: +4; 80 to under 85: +3; 75 to under 80: +2; below 75: 0. Each tier has 14 or 15 flows.

NEW academic scoring

Choose 0-3 of 70 elective rows (+4 per match), or Not sure yet / None. Choose 1-3 of four core subjects (+3 if the course's one linked core is selected). Add GWA once only when at least one selected elective or core matches. There is no cluster question; electives are not core choices. Maximum academic 21; total 43.

OLD route reference

Not used in these flows. A linked strand gives +4 plus the GWA bonus; Academic GAS has no links. Choose 1-3 of 19 old subjects; +3 per matching subject. Maximum total 38.

Reading the expected result

The breakdown lists interest, skill, certificate and academic points. Runner-up means the highest non-target total. If several courses share that total, the flow lists all co-runners; their order would require the hash, but the target remains strictly ahead.

Realism and source fidelity

Target-linked skills are 4 or 5 with at least one 5; all other ratings mix 1-3. GWA varies across six tiers. Options, statements, categories, electives and core labels come from current repository data, with Appendix A strands and Part 3 elective replacements applied. Blank optional selections are explicitly named.

Method and verification record

85 / 85 passed. Smallest strict lead: +3. No target uses a ranking tie-break.

A seeded Python/NumPy candidate search generated profiles using the exact current link tables. Both target interest links were selected. Target-linked skills were restricted to 4-5 with at least one 5, while other ratings were independently mixed across 1-3. Electives and certificates were drawn from target-linked categories, with occasional empty selections. Core choices included the target's single linked core. The GWA tier was fixed per target before search and retained through any fallback.

An independent scalar Python scorer then recomputed interest, skill, certificate and academic points for ALL 85 courses for each of the 85 final profiles (7,225 course evaluations). It checked each target's unique Rank 1 and minimum three-point lead, answer limits, linked skill bounds, GWA validity and distinct answer sets. Matrices used during search were not reused for that verification.

Appendix replacement postconditions and source link counts were checked before search. This establishes valid witnesses, not maximum possible leads or real-student outcome probabilities.

GWA tier distribution: 95 to 100: 15; 90 up to but not including 95: 14; 85 up to but not including 90: 14; 80 up to but not including 85: 14; 75 up to but not including 80: 14; Below 75: 14.

Certificate counts: {0: 8, 2: 38, 1: 39}. Elective counts: {3: 27, 2: 27, 1: 27, 0: 4}. Counts map number selected to number of flows.

Special handling

BUS01: preferred 0 elective(s)/0 certificate(s), used 3/0. GWA tiers were never changed to force a pass.
